Coolidge Talks To New England Society

New York, Dec. 21.—Efforts to establish an international jurisdiction under a New York sanction of force have siveries resulted in failure, Vice President Washington conference," he continued Coolidge told the New England Society "It is the consumnation of Meals which. always resulted in failure, Vice President Washington conference," he continued. Coolidge told the New England Society "It is the consumation of Meals which at its annual dinner tonight, "but this if we may claim first found their pracmean," he said, "that, as in 60-affairs, so in international af-New England, yet by the very New Eng-

Unless through the representative parcan be provided security against the rule of force, and a guarantee of the rule of reason, it cannot be provided at all," the vice president declared.

"The problems of the nations are yield, not to conflict, but to conference not force, but to reas a," he said. "The voyage of the Mayflower is not done With an ever increasing cargo of ideals achieved she is sailing on, bearing the hope and minis-tering to the welfare of the world. Over her, in the prophecy or their ancient paster, John Robinson, there is break-ing forth more light. It is the increas-ing radiance of the higher law.

"The great meaning of New England has been the part it has played in the establishment of a responsible representative form of government founded on the independent conscience of the individual citizens."

"The independent conscience

To the early settler of New England, Vice President Coolidge declared, belong-ed the credit for the working out and putting into practice of the ubstantial and the stable form of repesentative government.

"The source of authority, the source of liberty, lie in the people themselves; but the safest repository of necessary public authority, the firmness and the staunchest guardians of liberty, are the representative parliamentary bodies of world. Unless through theme there be provided security against the of force, and a guarantee of the ulo of reason, it cannot be provided at "One of the most difficult problems or the legislator of the present day is o distincuish between the advocates of rivate interest and public velfare. Uness this distinction be made, representive government, as we have established it in America, followed shed it in America, fails, and public uthority will be vasted not in the hands of those who are entitled to be designated as public officers but rather in the mands of those provincy selected to erve as special interest.

"If New England has performed one ice which was greater than another, as been to lead in freeing men from dominion of a ferce imposed from thout, and bring them under the dom-tion of that reason which speaks from thin. Its teachings have released man servitude, but laid on him

. THE FOUR-POWER TREATY

Washington, Dec. 52 (By the A. P.) .-Washington Dec. 22 189 the A. P. A. chusion of the Japanese mainland with-the meaning of the four-power treaty equivalent to treating the Japanese copie with patronage, according to the of many unofficial Japanese now in Ashington, who think that on that account the treaty will be vigorously con-temped by the opposition party in Japan. Sected for executive elemency, it was Officials attached to the Japanese lagahave refrained from definite com-as to their interpretation of the At tonight's conference

The idea behind this position is that lators and to have taken up once case the bringing of Japan proper within the purvey of the agreement when the maintained of the other three contracing parties are excluded is tantamount to regarding the Japanese as a weaker people who should receive especial consideration at the hands of the other nations. Such a point of view is decidedly offensive to Japan's national presting and dignity it was affirmed, because Japan feels entire-
